

Drama in Words

GSC movie passes up for grabs!

LEGEND has it that Ernest Hemingway created drama in six words with his famous six-word story:

For sale: Baby shoes. Never worn.

Can you stand alongside this great novelist?

Star-NiE challenges you to come up with a 10-word short story in this Golden Screen Cinemas (GSC) movie ticket giveaway contest.

And since Halloween is just around the corner, let's crank up the scares! Your 10-word story must include the word "SPOOKY"!

Your reward, should you win? A complimentary pass that admits two for a *movie screening.

- Complete your story in exactly 10 words (this includes the use of the word "SPOOKY").
- Participation is open to students between the ages of 12 and 19 who are studying in Malaysia.
- Submit your entry via e-mail to starnie@thestar.com.my.
- Title your e-mail: Drama in Words
- Contest closes on Oct 26, 2018.
- Evaluation of the entries will be done on the basis of originality, creativity, and relevance to the topic. Plagiarism will result in the automatic disqualification of the entries.
- The names of the winners will be published in StarEducate on Nov 4, 2018. The winners will also be notified by the Star-NiE team.
- Remember to give us the following particulars in your e-mail: Name in full, mailing address, school name, age, MyKad number, mobile phone number.
